

Summer math your child will actually love.

I'll tutor your child one-on-one — and turn math into games they actually want to play.

Hi — I'm Michele. I work one-on-one with children who've started to dread math, and I help them get it — using games, puzzles, and real conversation instead of drills. Most leave a session surprised they had fun!

We play our way through math

Think dice, cards, board games, and puzzles — the kind of fun where the learning sneaks right in.

It's just the two of us

With my full attention, every session moves at just the right pace and stays fun, friendly, and easy to follow.

From counting to algebra

Whether it's learning numbers or tackling fractions, I meet your child right where they are.

They'll leave loving math

Best of all, your child heads back to school in the fall feeling confident, capable, and excited!

30

I'm a Math Interventionist

Thirty years in the classroom have taught me there's no single way to understand math — so I find the one that finally clicks for your child. That experience makes every session a smart investment in their confidence.

Flexible scheduling

Sessions that fit around your summer plans.

Sibling savings

Save even more when I tutor siblings at one location.

Pricing is set case by case based on your child's needs and travel distance — just ask!
